This guide outlines additional functionality available in the EndNote program and is designed to support Masters/PhD students and staff working on in-depth projects. If you are new to EndNote please complete the EndNote essentials module for an introduction to setting up and using EndNote.

Syncing across multiple computers

The image shows a screenshot of the EndNote 20 software interface. The main window is titled "EndNote 20 - My EndNote Library-Converted.enl". The "Library" menu is open, displaying options such as "Sync", "Advanced Search", "Sort Library...", "Find Duplicates", "Find Broken Attachment Links", "Open Term Lists", "Define Term Lists...", "Link Term Lists...", "Spell Check", "Find and Replace...", "Change/Move/Copy Fields...", "Recover Library...", and "Library Summary".

On the left side of the interface, there is a sidebar with the following sections:

- Sync Configuration
- All References (4)
- Recently Added (1)
- Unfiled (4)
- Trash (0)
- MY GROUPS
 - My Groups
- FIND FULL TEXT
- GROUPS SHARED BY ...
- ONLINE SEARCH
 - Library of Congress (0)
 - LISTA (EBSCO) (0)

In the foreground, an "EndNote Login" dialog box is open. It contains the following text and fields:

Find more referencing styles

Many more styles are available for download from the EndNote website, including a number of journal styles.

Use the Style Finder below to search for a style name and/or citation style and/or publisher.

EndNote tip #1

If a journal name uses an ampersand (&) enter this when searching on the Output styles page

Edit output styles

➤ You can edit an existing style to match your requirements

The screenshot displays the Vancouver Curtin software interface, specifically the Bibliography style editor. The window title is "Vancouver Curtin" and it features a menu bar with "File", "Edit", "Tools", "Window", and "Help". Below the menu bar is a toolbar with options for "Plain Font", "Plain Size", and various text formatting icons (Bold, Italic, Underline, Paragraph, Superscript, Subscript, Sum, ABC, Bulleted List, Numbered List). The left sidebar shows a tree view of the software's structure, with "Bibliography" expanded and "Templates" selected. The main area is titled "Bibliography" and contains a "Reference Types" section. This section lists various reference types with their corresponding output styles:

EndNote tip #2

If you can't locate an EndNote style, find another that is similar and edit to match your requirements

Change Case

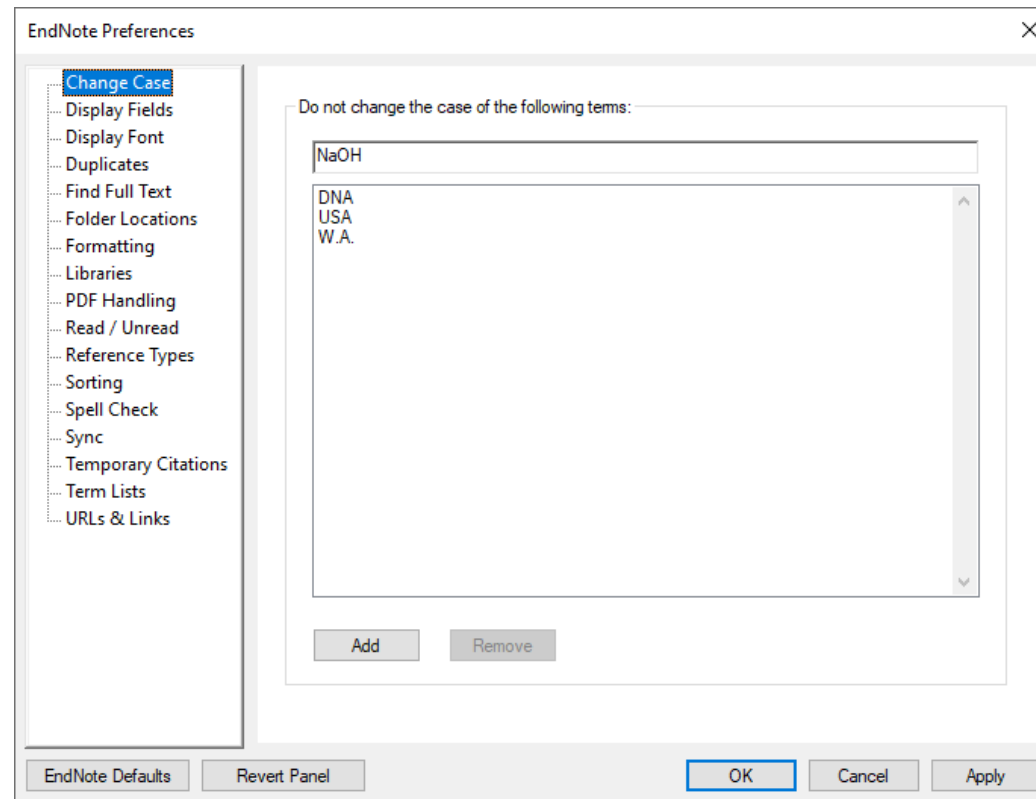

➤ To quickly change the capitalisation of titles etc. in the EndNote record.

Note that this will not take into account proper nouns so you may need to manually alter these to capitalise correctly.

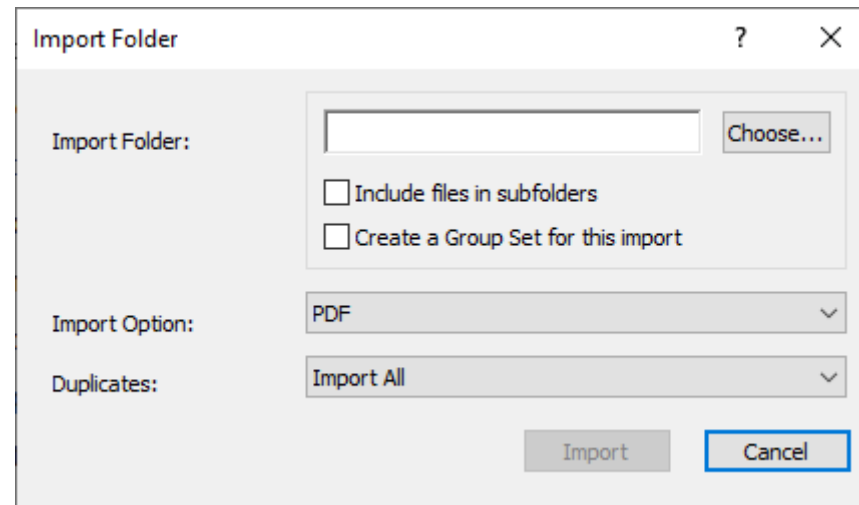

Change capitalisation

- You can set your preferences so EndNote will display acronyms, abbreviations, chemical symbols etc. with your preferred capitalisation

PDFs – Import PDFs

- EndNote allows you to import a single PDF file or a folder containing several PDFs and will then attempt to automatically create a reference for the PDF.

Find reference updates

- The Find Reference Updates function searches for updated reference information such as author, title, journal info, DOIs etc.
- Useful if you have references created from PDFs that do not have a DOI or references from Google Scholar

EN Review Available Updates for Reference 1 of 4 Selected - [Dela Cruz, 2018 #80 (My EndNote Librarytest.en)]

The available updates are shown on the left and highlighted in blue. "Update All Fields" copies every updated field from the Available Updates to My Reference, replacing anything already existing in the field(s) in My Reference. "Update Empty Fields" copies available updates only when the corresponding field in My Reference is blank. Text can also be manually copied and pasted into fields.

PDFs – Automatic importing

- EndNote can automatically import PDFs from a folder on your computer and create references from the PDFs (if there is a DOI)

EndNote Click

- EndNote Click is a browser extension that allows you to collect full text PDFs and add to your EndNote Library. You will need to sign up for an EndNote Click account.
- Useful for collecting references from Google Scholar and PubMed

Record numbers

- EndNote automatically assigns a sequential record number to your references as they are added to your library (e.g. first reference added is #1, second is #2 etc.). Record numbers cannot be changed and if you delete a reference from your library, the number will not be reused.

 Lu, 2009 #101

Change display fields

- EndNote allows you to change the fields (Author, Year, Title etc.) that are displayed and move the order they appear in the Reference panel in your library.

Record Number	Author	Year	Title
55	Abate, M. G.; ...	2020	Proximate determinants of infant mortality in Ethiopia, 2016 Ethiopian demog
66	Agorinya, I. ...	2018	Socio-demographic determinants of low birth weight: Evidence from the Kass

An 'EndNote Preferences' dialog box is overlaid on the references. The 'Display Fields' option is selected in the left-hand menu. The 'Fields to display in the library window' section is visible, showing a table with columns for Position, Field, and Heading:

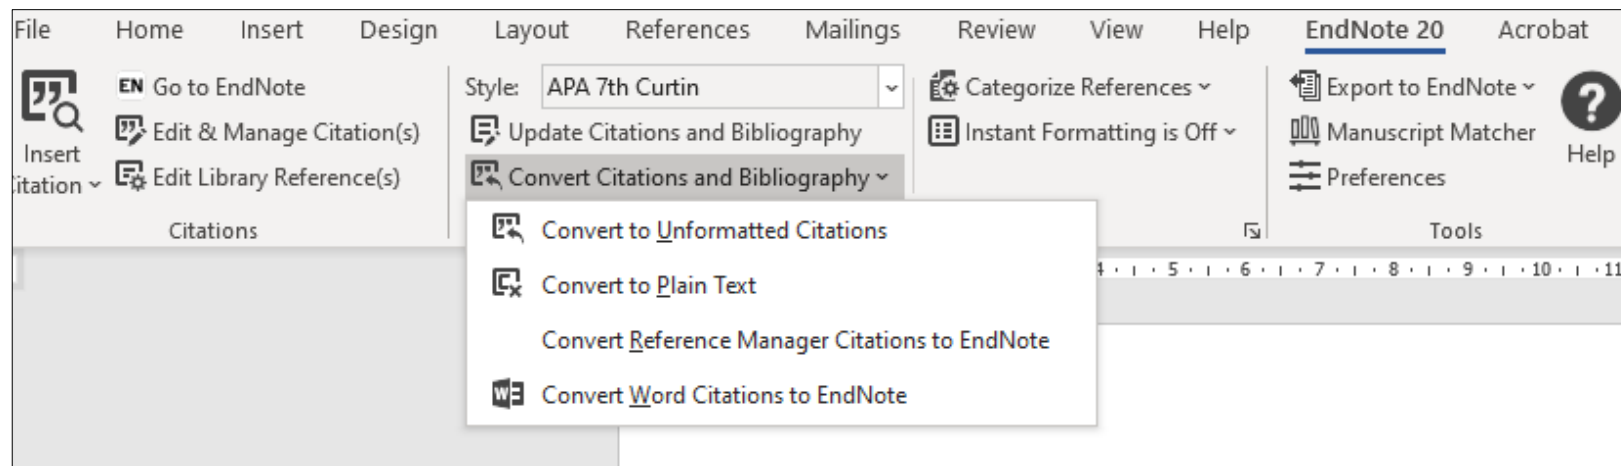

Position	Field	Heading
Column 1:	Record Number	Record Number
Column 2:	File Attachments
Column 3:	Author	Author

EndNote tip #3

Use the Research Notes field in the EndNote reference to record information (your own notes, quotes, gaps etc.)

Unformatted citations

- When working with long documents, it is recommended that you use unformatted citations in Microsoft Word. Formatted citations take a longer time to process as EndNote will update all citations in the document each time a reference is added.

When unformatted, the citations will appear in the form {Author, year #Record number} and the reference list will disappear

EndNote tip #4

If you syncing to a different computer, the record numbers will be different. Click Update Citations and Bibliography in Word to associate with the references in the synced library

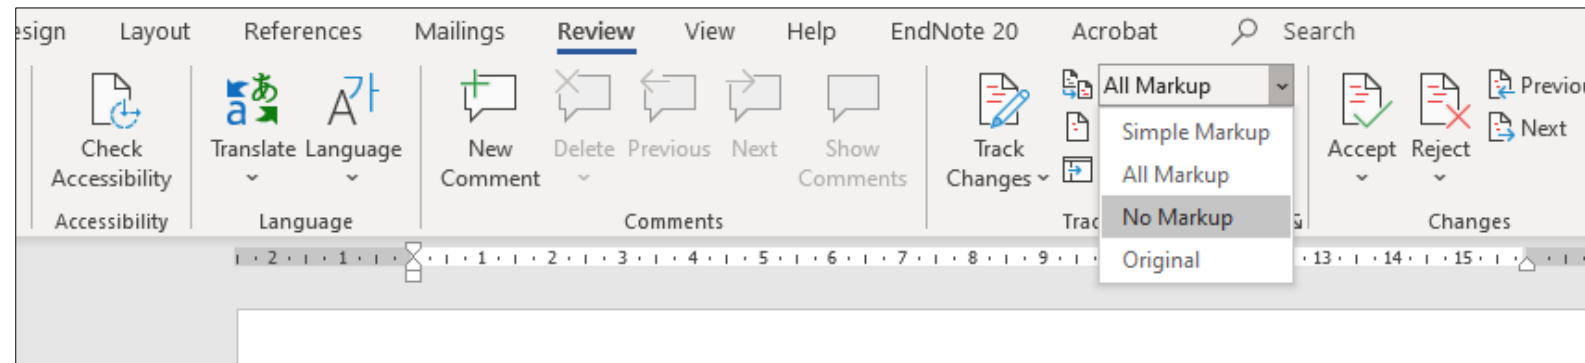

Merge chapters

- It can be easier to have separate documents for each of your chapters and then merge them into a single document at the end
- Convert each document to unformatted citations before copying and pasting into the new document

Track Changes

- Using the Track Changes function in your Word document while EndNote formatting is active can cause errors or crash your document.
- Change the Markup option to No Markup or Final (depending on Word version)

Traveling library

- As you insert formatted EndNote citations into a Word document, invisible field codes are included which contain the information necessary to form the in-text citations and reference list entry. It is possible to add the Traveling Library references to your EndNote library.

- Note: the Traveling Library cannot be exported if the document has been converted to plain text.

Convert to plain text

It is recommended that you convert your finalised document to plain text before submitting for assessment or publication. Converting to plain text creates a second copy of the document which isn't linked to your EndNote library.

EndNote tip #5

It is important to keep the original document with the EndNote formatting in case you need to make changes to it later

Access to EndNote after Curtin

Before you leave Curtin University, you can choose to either:

- Purchase your own copy of EndNote, or
- Sign up for an EndNote online account to retain access to your EndNote library.

Note: Change your Curtin email address which you use to login to EndNote online through Options > Email Address before you graduate as it will no longer be valid after graduation. When your 'premium' level access expires your EndNote online account will revert to an EndNote Basic account which will have reduced storage capacity and limited access to styles.
